

Activity #12 - Vectors

Write a class called Bag that stores a collection of objects. Use a vector as the underlying data structure. Your Bag class should have (at least) two public methods:

- add - add an object to the bag
- print - print each item in the bag

Submit a word/txt/pdf document your Bag class declaration, your main method, and the sample output.